Horses Doing Brisk Work at Gravesend, sheepshead Bar, Brighton Beach, and Morris Park-American Morses to Face the Fing in England-Beath of Lord Bradford,

The continuous fine weather is proving a boon to the thoroughbreds in training at local tracks. and owners and trainers are beginning to look forward with confidence to an early harvest. With the racing opening of the season only three weeks off the various candidates destined to face the flag at Bennings are being pushed along in their work, while the higher class animals engaged in the big spring handicaps are also kept moving at a sound clip. The Long Island tracks are scenes of lively preparation, and the long stretches within the Morris Park inclosure are also in active demand among the many strings quartered there, Yeaterday's warm wave enabled several of the ensitive equine aristocrats to shed their wraps, and unusually brisk work was the order. At Sheepshead Bay the Keene horses and several smaller strings were afoot early and breezed around to the evident delight of a big gathertor of railbirds. The Gravesend track was fairly alive with prancing thoroughbreds, and there were several fast moves at irregular distances. President P. J. Dwyer's string as out in batches and made a good showing. M. F. Dwyer's formidable array also moved in a style to please the stable critics, and lively work was accomplished by the horses in charge of Ed Tima, Henry Harris, J. A. Bennett, and others. Lrighton Beach received its share of the patronage, and the horses working there showed signs of being ripe for conquest after a few more such weeks of hustling as they have already gone through with wisible results. The performances at Morris Park were the best of the season among the Westchester candidates. A. J. Joyner had out a formidable array of two-year-olds, which worked at a lively clip. Tom Healey was another busy man. W. Karrick's string received a useful dose of trotting and cantering. and others out for pipe-openers included the aumerous charges of Matt Allen, W. Smith, and J. W. Rogers.

The weights for the Carter Handicap at the Queen's County Jockey Club spring meeting have been allotted, and anything like a fair acceptance should insure the greatest race ever seen at Aqueduct. The event is scheduled for April 25, so that the horses engaged have five weeks in which to prepare for the ordeal. This handicap is the most ambitious bid for the patronage of horsemen and the public ever made by the Queens County Jockey Club. The snug sum of $1,000 is added, and some of the most consistent horses in training are likely to be pulled out for the early plum. Additional interest attaches to the event through the entry of Ornament, and the first declarations, which are due on April 11, will be eagerly awaited by many who would like to see the noted son of of imp. Order start and by others who for obvious reasons would not. Ornament is rated by the handicapper as fifteen pounds better than the next horse in line and as capable of conceding up to forty-three pounds to the younger division. The conditions and weights of the handicap are as follows:

to-morrow, and the most funcied of the candidates include some representative American thoroughbreds. Among those eligible are St. Cloud II., Voter, David II., and Mack Briggs. The first two are the property of James R. Keene. One may be withdrawn, although the latest returns by mail show that both have been backed independently. Bradford, who is engaged to ride the choice, has been exercising each in turn, and early speculators have been considerably puzzled. The prices quoted in the Field of March 12 against the probable starters are:

Fifteen to 2 Prince Barcaldine, 100 to 7 each High Treasurer, Melange, Chelandry, and David II.: 100 to 6 each St. Cloud II. Gen. Peace, Foston, Sardis, and Ryoto; 20 to 1 each St. Fiacre and Hermiston, 25 to 1 each Funny Bost, Not Much, and Mack Briggs; 33 to 1 each Golden Rule and Voter.

After the decision of the Lincolnshire attention will be diverted to the Grand National Steeplechase, to be run over the historic Antree course at the Liverpool spring meeting, which opens on next Thursday.

LEXINGTON, March 20.—H. Eugene Leigh came here to-day for the purpose of buying Plaudit. He and Madden had a talk about the borse, but no trade was effected. Leigh, it is understood, offered $20,000 for the hurse, but Madden wanted $25,000. Leigh said to-night he would like to have Plaudit in his stable, but he liked $25,000 better. He will return to Nashville to-morrow, where he will begin racing on April 1. Madden will likely remain in the West until he sees the quality of his horses. Riley Grannan returned here last night after an absence of two years. To-day he drove over to Paris to see his mother and father, who reside in a beautiful home in the Bourbon county capital, which was given them by Grannan several years ago, when he was startling the turf world by his desperate chances against the book-makers. He is delighted with being home again, and says he will spend a short season in the West and then go East if he is reinstated by the Jockey Club.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 20.—The special committee of the Board of Supervisors, to which was referred the order restricting racing in this city to forty-eight days in any one year and abolishing women's day at the race track, has decided to report in favor of its passage. It appears that a majority of the board is in favor of the ordinance, and it probably will be quickly made a law. This will affect the ingle-side course only, as the other track is across the bay and in another county.

The Queens County Horse Show.

The Horse Show Association of Queens County will hold its second annual show on May 12, 13 and 14. As at the first exhibition, the profits will be donated to the Nassau Hospital at Mineola. The Queens County Agricultural Society has again offered the use of its grounds for the three days. In addition to the usual horse show features it is proposed to have symkhana, pony races and other exhibitions. The prize lists, entry blanks and programme will be announced later. William C. Whitney s President and E. D. Morgan and H. L. Her-

Is President and E. D. Morgan and H. L. Herbert are the Vice-Presidents of the Queens County Horse show Association.

The general admission to the grounds at the coning exhibition will be 50 cents and 25 cents extra for seats on the grand stand. A limited number of boxes on the grand stand, holding fix persons, can be bought for $15 cach, which includes admission to the grounds. Spaces for coaches in the inclosure at $10 sach may be obtained. To the subscribers of last year or to any others who wish to contribute to the charty and the will send $5 to the Treasurer, C. R. Hone, 50 Wall street, a badge will be sent giving and said to himself and one woman and carriage to the grounds and grand stand on each day of the show. The association will be grateful to any one desiring to contribute special prizes in any class they may prefer or in any other way to said the charity. It is the intention to give money for the first and second prizes and a ribbon for the third.

BAREBALL.

Resting Day for the New Yorks at Their Lukewood Gunriers.

LAKEWOOD, March 20. - Owing to the fact that funday baseball playing did not meet with the approval of the villagers during the New Yorks' practice in the spring of last year, the men were allowed to rest to-day. It was well that they were, for the weather was quite chilly, and in the morning it was showery. The men work and yesterday's game have made them stiff and sore. Meekin was very sore about the body yesterday, and in the morning he could hardly run after a ball, but during the day he gradu-yesterday, and in the morning he could hardly run after a ball, but during the day he gradually worked himself out of it. Van Haltren, Joyce, Davis, Gleason, Grady, and Warner are the chief ones troubled with stiff joints. The men have done quite a lot of hard work since they began last Wednesday, and it is the general opinion that they are rushing things a triffection much.

Those who have watched the men practicing are beginning to feel a little anxious about them, and say there is a chance that the men will become stale quickly. President Freedman's views are just the opposite, as he believes in "making hay while the sun shines," as he says they will not always be favored with such good weather. Ed Deheny is in better form than any other of the plichers, and in yesterday's game showed considerable speed and plenty of headwork. Young Burns, however, had the most speed in the game and promises to be a topnotcher with a little more experience. He has a drop ball which is very deceiving. A rather singular incident of the game yesterday was that the heaviest hits were made by the pitchers, who as a rule are not very good with the stick. Out of the thirty hits, nineteen were made by the twirlers, Gettig, Rusie and Meekin getting four each, and Sullivan and Seymour three each. Deheny and Burns did not connect with the ball once.

The Men Who May Represent Fordham on the

For the past three or four years Fordham Colseason promises to be a successful one. The candidates have been in active training since Feb. 1. under the direction of Coach Cotter of the Columbia Medical College. There has not been much indoor training, as the fine weather permitted the men to work on the college campus for the past month. The team has not been chosen, but the positions will probably be filled in the following man-ner: Catchers, William Kelley, 1901, of Providence, and Paul Dolan, '99, of Pottsville, Pa.; pitchers, William Maroney, 1900, Providence, and Maurice O'Gorman, 1900, of this city. Maroney has plenty of speed, and is a heavy batter. O'Gorman was a valuable man for the Consolidated team last season. First base will be covered by either Philip B. Reilly, 1900, of Pittsburg, or Charles E. Downes, '98, of Hyde-

Gerald J. Barry, '98, of this city, will hold down second base again. Charles E. Wade, 1900, of Williamsbridge, will cover third base. Shortstop lies between William Lauterbom, 1901, of Horrellsville, N. Y., and Edward Swetnam, 1901, of Paterson, N. J. Lauterbom will probably be chosen. He is a good base runner and a very clever fielder. Swetnam is a valuable manbut he is a trifle light. Charles L. Tierney, 1900, of Goshen, the centre fielder, is noted for his heavy hitting and fast fielding. Frank Murphy, 1900, of Tarrytown, will cover left field. He is considered one of the heaviest hitters on the team. Right field will be looked after by either Edward Mitchell, 1901, of Boston, or John McGowan, '99, of Mount Vernon. The Breeklyns Suspend Training Operations ALLAIRE, March 20.-The Brooklyns suspended training operations to-day. They were pretty well divided as to their choice of pastime Some of the players went driving, others went Some of the players went driving, others went fishing, and others who had bicycles here with them prefered to wheel. Jones and "Broadway" Smith cycled to Lakewood in the morning. Jack McMasters and six of his charges, including "Old Fisherman" Quinn, went to Manasquan to catch as many hungry perch as could be enticed. They were able to bring all they caught back with them in the wagon, however. The practice contests to be fought retween the regulars and colts will begin on Tuesday afternoon.

GEORGETOWN, March 20.-The preliminary work of the Georgetown University baseball candidates in their preparation for the first game of the season, to be played next Saturday with Johns Hopkins University, promises well, as Bach, who showed up surprisingly tast year for his first season in the local and Tracey, last year's substitute, are again available. Walsh, who alternated regularly with Bach last year, was left with a sore and disabled arm at the close of the season and will not attempt to do any pitching until the hot weather is here.

If Walsh regains his old form and Bach shows the least improvement, they will be two reliable men, on whom much can be depended. Among the aspiring twirlers two most promising youngsters have been found in Eddle Dowd, brother of the professional who played here in '94, and Miles, a left-hander from Cedar Rapids, Ia. Downes, another new man, from Missouri, an excellent fielder and batter, is also a good pitcher who can be used if necessary.

Maloner, last year's nervy little catcher, who was thought to be the equal of any of the crack backstops, will again hold up to receiving end of the battery. P. Fleming, who proved to be a star last year, will play second base, and Dan McCarthy will play his old position in right field. First base will be covered by Cassey, a Brown University man for two terms, and third will be occupied by Hafford, an extain and third baseman at Somerville. Mass., the past two seasons. Short will be covered by Carles Moran, a local amateur of repute who comes from Gonzaga College. Downes will probably be used regularly in centre field, while the right garden will be taken care off by Michael Walsh until he is ready to pitch.

THE DETROIT DRIVING CLUB MAY WITHDRAW FROM THE N. T. A.

Campan Says the New Rules Will Driving Club Said to He in Payor of Build-A meeting of the Executive Committee of the Driving Club has been called for next Thursday to consider the report of the sub-committee on sites, which was filed with the President last week. Although no announcement has been made officially concerning the result of the com-mittee's labors, it is generally understood that majority of the five members will recommend the location selected by Sam McMillan in the bog between West Chester and Baychester, on the line of the Bronx and Pelham Parkway, near the intersection of the East Chester road. A reporter of THE SUN saw the proposed site of the Conner estate lying east of the East Chester road, and extends into the great salt marsh near the head waters of Westchester Creek. In this swamp it is proposed to build the track by filling in with dirt (xcavated from the Jerome Park reservoir. The Bronx and Pelham Parkway is being built across this swamp a few yards from where the track would be. It is said that the work has been going on for four or five months and thousands of carloads of stone and soil have been dumped into the bog without making much of a showing above the surface, the soft mud swallowing up the filling material about as fast as'it can be put in place. surface of the hog has hulged up to the height of three or four feet above the natural level, raised by the filling material underneath. Many persons think it would be a hazardous piece of business to attempt to construct a solid track on such soft ground, while such trainers as E. R. Bowne, Barney Demarest, John Kelly, and Isaac Fleming say that a track in a salt marsh would be an unhealthy and unsuitable place to work borses. Charley Thompson, the humorist of the horse-training fraternity, said yesterday: "The location is all right. The mosquitoes up there would keep a man's horses so busy that he wouldn't have to work 'em out more than about once a week," On the high ground near the East Chester road there is an old stone house which it is proposed to transform into a clubhouse, although the building is probably 200 yards from the nearest point on the track. The members of the sub-committee on sites are Sam McMillan, Capt. C. H. McDonald, W. E. D. Stokes, Fred Steinway, and James Butler. Their choice of location will be subject to approval or rejection by the Executive Committee made up of Alfred de Cordova, James W. Daly, James McClenahan, Fred Deitz, Luke Burke. At least two of the leading tracks in the Grand Circuit will probably withdraw from the National Trotting Association in case no arrangement is made for suspending the operation of the objectionable rules recently adopted at the congress here. Following the lead of Charter Oak Park, President D. J. Campau of the Detroit Driving Club writes to The Sun that his organization will not recognize the new rules at the Grand Circuit meeting of July 1823. Whether the Detroit Club will join the American Association or hold an independent meeting governed by the old rules of the N. T.

A. has not yet been decided, but horsemen will be permitted to drive without licenses and the judges will exercise the old right to declare void any deciding heat in which fraud is apparent.
The Chicago Horseman has recently can wased the track managers, breeders, owners, and drivers in thirty-ly States on the whise of The Chicago Horseman has recently canvassed the track managers, breeders, owners, and drivers in thirty-six States on the subject of the new rules. Out of 400 horsemen who expressed an opinion a majority were opposed to the license or passport system, and to taking away from the judges the power to declare a deciding heat wold for fraud. On the other hand, nearly 300 out of 400 favored the rule abolishing hoppies after Jan. 1, 1899.

deciding heat void for fraud. On the other hand, nearly 300 out of 400 favored the rule abolishing hoppies after Jan. 1, 1899.

The suggestion of David Bonner that here after the Committee on Rules should be called togother two or three weeks before the blennial congress of the N. T. A. seems to be favored by all horsemen. It is generally admitted that the mistakes of the recent meeting of the track managers were the result of undue haste, the whole turf code having been gone over and radically changed by the congress within about two hours. The particular amendments which have proved to be so objectionable were adopted on the spur of the moment, not one horseman in one hundred having known or suspected beforehand that any such provisions would be considered. In the line of Mr. Bonner's suggestion to President Johnston the proposition has also been advanced to have a joint standing committee on rules made up of representatives from both the N. T. A. and the A. T. A. The committee should receive power to consider and report on all proposed changes in the turf code with a view to maintaining uniform rules on all trotting tracks throughout the country. As matters now stand there is danger of increasing confusion, some tracks using the American rules, others the new National rules, and still others the old code of the N. T. A. Rule 62 of the N. T. A. and rule 165 of the A. T. A. provide for the appointment of such a joint committee, but there is no provision for meetings except during and just before the biennial congress of each association, and even these insettings have not been held.
